IT'S A CLEAN SWEEP

Not a Morsel for the Opposition in Silver Bow County.

DEMOCRATIC ALL THROUGH

From Bryan to the Sump There is Nothing Shown but Victory for the People, Hence the Enthusiasm in Butte.

The returns from Dublin gulch got in yesterday. There is something sublime about Dublin gulch. It is all right, all right. It reported one solitary vote for McKinley, and the boys think they have him spotted. There were 374 votes for Bryan. Goddard also got one vote to 245 for Hartman. Both got 3 votes to 268 for Smith. Reynolds for sheriff ran way ahead of the balance of the republican ticket, getting a grand total of 2 votes to 359 for Reagan. Johnson was honored with a solitary vote. Baldwin and Drennan got 3 each. The Dublin gulch precinct is officially known as precinct 8.

Returns received yesterday do not change much the figures published in yesterday's Standard, which were very nearly complete on presidential, congressman and governor. The official count will be started by the county commissioners this morning. It will be a long job and may take a full week to complete. Returns actually received give Bryan 9,590 and McKinley 1,274, a lead for Bryan of 8,316. Hartman's total vote is 7,231 to 1,275 for Goddard. The vote on governor thus far stands 7,696 for Smith and 2,146 for Botkin.

A number of additional returns have been received on the county ticket, but they only serve to confirm the fusion victory and strengthen the fusion majority. Not a morsel is lost with the possible exception of a constable in Meadville.

Most interest centers in the vote for sheriff and for district judges and the figures on these candidates are given below as far as they have been received:

Historical Prophecies Not Fulfilled.

From the San Francisco Chronicle. In these days of cheap vaticination and short-dated prophecies it may not be amiss, says the St. James Gazette, to cast retrospective glance on a few of the most monumental mistakes ever achieved in this line. Here are a few of these famous contributions to the history of human error:

First—Aristotle said that slavery would last forever, or would cease only when the shuttle would weave of its own accord. A double mistake that, for slavery is all but abolished, and, thanks to invention, the shuttle may be said to work of its own accord.

Second—"Before 50 years are over, all Europe will be republican or Cosmopolitan," prophesied St. Metetrich, and in the first decade of this century. We are now nearing its flag end, but "old Yurup" is less republican than ever, and is still some way from universal Cosmocracy.

Third—"Italy is but a geographical expression, and never will be anything else," opined Prince Metetrich, and just before his death he saw what he considered Utopia on the point of becoming a reality.

Fourth—"The railways will never be of any use for the transport of goods," sang out M. Thiers, leading a chorus of scornful economists.

Fifth—"There is no morrow for universal suffrage," exclaimed M. Guizot on the eve of the very revolution which sent him into exile and promulgated universal suffrage as sovereign law.

Sixth—"Never," was M. Rouher's answer to those asking after Montana when Rome would become the capital of Italy. A very short time after the trick was done.

Seventh—"The United States of Europe," was the prophecy of all ardent democrats from Victor Hugo to Carlo Cattaneo, and its fulfillment was to be the play immediately after the downfall of Napoleon empire. It is 25 years now since that eventful moment, but the states of Europe are, if anything, more disunited and more aggressive than ever.

Perhaps the ancients, who knew a thing or two, were right in saying that the future is on the lap of the gods.

NOTES OF THE MODE.

Alpaca petticoats with ruffles of the same bound with satin of a contrasting color are very pretty and much more durable than silk.

Red is the favorite color for many little accessories of dress, and a brown coat and skirt costume is made very attractive by a red silk vest.

Elouse waists of flannelette and silk are still very much worn but the color of the skirt should be repeated in the bodice if you would be quite up to date.

The sable boa is to be as fashionable as ever this winter, and 14 tails is the required number for the latest model, which also has the head at one end.

The new combination undergarments are very attractive with an extra belt of pink merino, which extends from the bust well below the waist. This gives warmth where it is needed, and the pink and white mixture is very pretty.

Boleros of finely tucked silk in any color or you choose are one of the features of dress, and black velvet boleros, covered with an applique of white net, laces outlined with cord and steel, are made to wear with different bodices.

The tendency in dress just now is to fit the waists very snug and close, as if they were molded to the figure. The Greek sculptor's idea of a short waist and long limbs seems to be reversed in the methods of the modern tailor.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SHOT BY HIS OWN SON

An Old Man Wounded and Subsequently Arrested.

THE NEWS OF GREAT FALLS

Mrs. Whitbeck Sues the Railroad Company That Ordered Her House Torn Down—Percy Comstock Dead.

Great Falls, Nov. 5.—Deputy Sheriff Bruneau drove out to Spring Coulee this morning and arrested Charles McQuaid, an old ranchman, on the charge of disturbing the peace. The complaint was sworn out by McQuaid's son and the trouble originated over family troubles of some character. The old gentleman was arraigned before Judge Burleigh this afternoon and released on his own recognizance. He is an old man, 64 years of age, his health is impaired and his long locks are as white as snow. According to Mr. McQuaid's story there has been ill feeling between the father and son for some months and the latter lives with a neighbor on an adjoining farm. On Monday last, the old gentleman says, he went out to look for his horses, taking a shotgun along to kill some chickens. He found the horses had gone out of the pasture into Duncan Johnson's ranch, adjoining his, and where his son works. He saw the horses in Johnson's pasture and went over to get them. As he was leading the horses away, he charges, his son came out of Johnson's house and fired at him with a shotgun. Some of the shot scattered in his forehead, the balance tearing up his right hand. The shock of the onslaught was so great that the old man accidentally pulled the trigger of his gun and the contents of one barrel lodged in the ground at the feet of his boy. The boy turned and ran into the house while the father returned home with his horses. Yesterday the son came to the city and swore out a complaint. The old man's wounds were dressed by Dr. Brady.

Mrs. Whitebeck has instituted suit against the Montana Central Railroad company for $20,000 damages. The complaint alleges that plaintiff is the wife of A. G. Whitebeck, who, until a few days ago, resided on the river bank on the west side on land claimed by the railroad company; that a few days ago, while at her home, a section gang in the employ of the defendant appeared about 5 o'clock in the evening and ordered her to vacate. She replied that she was unable to do so, and thereupon the men pulled down the shack and Mrs. Whitebeck was left upon her sick bed, where she remained for more than two hours, when her husband returned. Plaintiff claims that by this exposure her health was impaired to the extent of the sum for which she sues.

Percy A. Comstock died last night at the county hospital from injuries received from a vicious horse a few weeks ago. He was a Scotchman, aged 64 years, and had been a resident of Belt since 1891. While employed in one of the stables there in September last he was kicked in the groin by a horse and a few days later was brought here to the hospital, where he has since been under medical treatment. He was buried this afternoon.

This morning Judge Benton handed down an order releasing the costs in the damage suit of Mrs. Mary Pierce vs. the Great Falls & Canada Railway company in the sum of $119. The original bill of costs in the suit was $719, and included Mileage from Sweet Grass, on the international boundary line, for all witnesses brought by the railroad company from Lethbridge, in the Northwest territory. The court allows mileage from the county line on the Great Falls & Canada railway, a distance of 20 miles, and for a majority of the witnesses three days' attendance and the balance per diem one and two days. The amount to be drawn has thus been reduced from $719 for each witness to $9 and $12 each. The order establishes a rule that mileage in cases of this kind can only be drawn from the county line of Cascade county. The saving to Mrs. Price is just $100.

Delayed returns from county precincts arrived to-day, but do not materially change the result of the election in this county as outlined in the Standard this morning.

THE CURSE

Of mankind—contagious blood poison—claimed as its victim Mr. Frank B. Martin, 926 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and the usual physician's treatment did him not the slightest good. His condition reached that deplorable stage which only this terrible disease can produce.

THE CURE

After all else failed, was at last found in S. S. S.—the greatest of all blood remedies. Eighteen bottles removed the disease permanently, and left his skin without a blemish.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable; and is the only known cure for this terrible disease. Books free; address, Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.
